"ODE TO LOVER"

Soldiers are indeed nation's pride,
But my heart aches for someone making bigger sacrifice,
They leave behind their families, love and lives,
But the one who left behind pays the same price.

Country owes debt to their friends and family,
But no one recognizes a lover's agony,
She turns her normal life into tragedy,
Don't you think she also immolate for the country .

After living the best moments for awhile,
She bids him farewell bravely with a bright smile,
Fear of unknowing which meeting will be the last,

Life lessons from Chhattisgarh

By Dr Rakesh Chhabra

Purani

His walnut brown face is deeply lined, perhaps as deep as the furrows on the farm land he is so proud of. Every morning, the bhaji wala clarion call rings loud in our street. Fiery, fresh, crispy green, sparkling drops of water rolling off, various bhajias bursting with taste and health ride pillion in a damp bun'ap sack on his rickety old cycle.

He skreeps to a stop beside me, a bunch of mooli leaves tied to the handle bars waving merrily.

"Ka lebe bebut" he asks smilingly. I ask for a kilo of spinach. I know enough to wait on even after I have paid, and my greens have been weighed and placed in my tokri. He places a generous handful of bhaji more in my basket.

This is Chhattisgarh, and this is my Parauri-A little extra, a little more than what has been asked for, than what has been paid for.

If only life, learnt from Chhattisgarh

Laika Mann

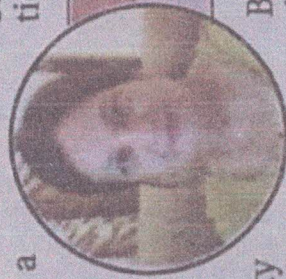

Growing up in a Punjabi household, I realized very early the bias towards boys. The contestants of beauty pageants respond to many questions, but their fate is determined by the one, "What is going to be your contribution to the world". In our joint family home every person's, every visitors life profile, good/ bad fortune depended, in my dad's eyes, on the answer to part B of the question, "How many children do you have". Part B asked, "How many girls, how many boys".

After the answer was given, it was as if with the inventory, a Balance Sheet was created instantly. More boys meant good luck and kismet, the debit of more girls led to sighs of sympathy.

It was one of the first things I noticed after Chhattisgarh became my home. The question, "Ke thann laika mann havey behni" doesn't have a Part B.

GUEST COLUMN

Consequently, there is no Balance sheet, no profit-loss. A child is a child is a child.

The Chhattisgarhi doesn't have to practice gender equality, it is a way of life with him.

Aama Achaar

There's been a fight in the morning in the college campus. Hot words have been exchanged, the two peons have come to blows, fingers trembling with rage have threatened the other with grim consequences.

The winter evening sun however tells a different story; the two are sitting together outside the canteen sipping tea in cordial camaraderie. I sit down on a bench with my own tea, and smilingly ask how the fight has been resolved so soon. Because, says Madan, the older of the two, we don't make aama achaar out of it. He laughs at my incomprehension. "Gussa la Mann mean dhar ke, chutney murabba nahi banabe".

Anger, I realize is an emotion and a very human one, but nursing and preserving it carefully, turns it into hatred. The Chhattisgarhi knows anger, but he does not prefer to turn it into the aama achaar chutney of hatred. These are Life lessons from our Chhattisgarh.

Five Brave Soldiers

Five brave soldiers fighting in the war

One came home

And now there are four

Four brave soldiers strong as can be

One came home

And now there are three

Three brave soldiers I one knew

One came home

And now there are two

Two brave soldiers ready to be done

One came home

And now there is one

One Brave soldier ready for some fun

One came home

And now there are none

The Ancient Brick Laxman Temple of Sirpur

By deepak das

Dec 8, 2021 Ancient Temple, Brick Temple, Laxman Temple Sirpur

Dolly Chouhan// Bhilai. Situated in the heart of India, Chhattisgarh is endowed with a rich cultural heritage and attractive natural diversity. The state is full of ancient monuments, rare wildlife, exquisitely carved temples, Buddhist sites, waterfalls, caves and prehistoric sites. One of the best places to visit in chhattisgarh is the Laxman Temple of Sirpur. Sirpur is situated on the banks of the Mahanadi river. Sirpur was known as Sirpur in ancient times and was the capital of South Kosala. Sirpur is known for its Buddh viharas. Laxman Temple is the major tourist attraction of the place. Laxman Temple is one of the finest bricks temples in India and perhaps the oldest. It is characterised by exquisite carvings and precise construction. Sheshnaag serves as an umbrella to lord Shiva on the top of the entrance, while incarnations of Lord Vishnu, Krishna Leela ornamental symbols and erotic carving adorn the sides. The religious segments of a temple Vatayan, Chitya Gawaksha, Bharwahakgana, Aja, Kirtimukh and Kama Amalak are engraved in the pillars of this panchaeth type temple. The inside has the Mandap (shelter), Antaraal (passage) and Garbha Griha (the main house). The archaeological survey of India has established a museum in the temple premises, which houses a collection of rare statues and other relies significant to the Shiva, Vaishnava, Buddhist and Jain faiths.
