

Institutional Distinctiveness

As the institution has more students from BPL group, hence these students are engaged in some jobs or the other, to give economic support to their families and also to carry on their education expenses. the institution always support such students in attendance, books, notes in taking extra classes, practical's and extra guidance

Such students are also guided by the seniors as mentors by helping them with their lessons.

These students are often taken as a symbol of pride for the college as they have to work and study at the same time but they prefer to still continue their education. These students are often found out to be very active in extracurricular actives too.
